

Anthony Masunga has fourteen years experience in the field of Information and Communications Technology. He has worked in various projects and his roles ranged from business strategy development, project management, product development to technology innovation. Prior to joining beMOBILE, Anthony had been in the employ of a mobile operator in Botswana as Chief Technical Officer.

Anthony has worked as a Consultant at WPQ Botswana, IT Manager at the Botswana National Productivity Centre, and a Systems Analyst at the Bank Botswana. As a consultant at WPQ, he was actively involved in the 2000 National Y2K campaign as the Assistant Project Manager.

He has also consulted for SADC in Tanzania and Lesotho. Mr Masunga has also served in the Executive Council of the Botswana Information Technology Society (BITS). He was actively involved in the setting up of COBIT (Citizen Owned Businesses in Information Technology), a business forum for local IT companies. He has chaired the Board of a successful ICT company in Botswana and was also a member of the board of trustees for the Staff Pension Fund of a mobile operator in Botswana.

Anthony's driving principles are centred on consistent delivery of quality results on time! He is an excellent team player and believes in joint celebration of team successes. He holds a BSc Computer Science from McGill University (Canada) and an MBA from De Montfort University (UK). He is married with 2 children.